2022 City of Raleigh Community Survey Executive Summary

Purpose

ETC Institute administered a survey to residents of the City of Raleigh between January and February of 2023. The purpose of the survey is to help the City gather input from the community on a wide range of issues impacting the overall quality of life. As the City continues to grow, leaders understand it is important to strategically plan for the future.

The seven-page survey, cover letter and postage-paid return envelope were mailed to a random sample of households in the City of Raleigh. The cover letter explained the purpose of the survey and encouraged residents to either return their survey by mail or complete the survey online. At the end of the online survey, residents were asked to enter their home address; this was done to ensure that only responses from residents who were part of the random sample were included in the final survey database.

The goal was to obtain completed surveys from at least 1,000 residents. A total of 1,045 surveys were completed. The overall results for the sample of 1,045 households have a precision of at least +/-3.0% at the 95% level of confidence.

The percentage of "don't know" responses has been excluded from many of the graphs shown in this report to facilitate valid comparisons of the results from Raleigh with the results from other communities in ETC Institute's DirectionFinder® database. Since the number of "don't know" responses often reflects the utilization and awareness of city services, the percentage of "don't know" responses has been provided in the tabular data section of this report. When the "don't know" responses have been excluded, the text of this report will indicate that the responses have been excluded with the phrase "who had an opinion."

This report contains:

- An executive summary of the methodology for administering the survey and major findings,
- charts showing the overall results for most questions on the survey,
- charts comparing the 2020 survey results to the results of the 2018 and 2016 surveys,
- benchmarking data that show how the results for Raleigh compare to other communities,
- Importance-Satisfaction analysis that determines priority actions for the City to address based upon the survey results,
- tables that show the results for each question on the survey,
- a copy of the survey instrument.

Benchmarking Analysis

Overview

ETC Institute's DirectionFinder® program was originally developed in 1999 to help community leaders use statistically valid community survey data as a tool for making better decisions. Since November 1999, the survey has been administered in more than 500 cities and counties in 49 states. Most participating communities conduct the survey on an annual or biennial basis.

This report contains benchmarking data from two sources: (1) a national survey that was administered by ETC Institute during the fall of 2021 to a random sample of residents in the continental United States living in communities with a population of more than 250,000 residents, and (2) survey results from 20 large communities (population of more than 250,000 residents) where ETC Institute administered the DirectionFinder® survey between January 2020 and December 2022. The results from individual communities were used as the basis for developing the range of performance. The communities included in the performance comparisons shown in this report are listed below:

- Austin, TX
- Bucks County, PA
- Buncombe County, NC
- Cincinnati, OH
- Dallas, TX
- Durham (City), NC
- Durham County, NC

4 Importance-Satisfaction Analysis

Importance-Satisfaction Analysis

Overview

Today, community leaders have limited resources which need to be targeted to activities that are of the most benefit to their residents. Two of the most important criteria for decision making are (1) to target resources toward services of the highest importance to residents; and (2) to target resources toward those services where residents are the least satisfied.

The Importance-Satisfaction (I-S) rating is a unique tool that allows public officials to better understand both of these highly important decision-making criteria for each of the services they are providing. The Importance-Satisfaction (I-S) rating is based on the concept that public agencies will maximize overall customer satisfaction by emphasizing improvements in those areas where the level of satisfaction is relatively low, and the perceived importance of the service is relatively high.

The rating is calculated by summing the percentage of responses for items selected as the first, second, and third most important services for the City to emphasize over the next two years. The sum is then multiplied by 1 minus the percentage of respondents who indicated they were positively satisfied with the City's performance in the related area (the sum of the ratings of 4 and 5 on a 5-point scale excluding "don't know" responses). "Don't know" responses are excluded from the calculation to ensure the satisfaction ratings among service categories are comparable.

$$\text{I-S Rating} = \text{Importance} \times (1 - \text{Satisfaction})$$

Example of the Calculation

Respondents were asked to identify the categories of Organizational Excellence that were most important to emphasize over the next two years. Approximately forty-five percent (44.9%) of the respondent households selected "effectiveness of City communication" as one of the most important services for the City to emphasize.

With regard to satisfaction, 39.7% of respondents surveyed rated "effectiveness of City communication" as a "4" or "5" on a 5-point scale (where "5" means "Very Satisfied") excluding "don't know" responses. The I-S rating was calculated by multiplying the sum of the most important percentages by one minus the sum of the satisfaction percentages. In this example, 44.9% was multiplied by 60.3% (1-0.397). This calculation yielded an I-S rating of 0.2707, which ranked first out of eighteen categories of Organizational Excellence analyzed.

Importance-Satisfaction Analysis

The maximum rating is 1.00 and would be achieved when 100% of the respondents select an item as one of their top three choices of importance and 0% indicate they are positively satisfied with the delivery of the service.

The lowest rating is 0.00 and could be achieved under either of the following two situations:

- If 100% of the respondents were positively satisfied with the delivery of the service
- If none (0%) of the respondents selected the service as one of the three most important areas.

Interpreting the Ratings

Ratings that are greater than or equal to 0.20 identify areas that should receive significantly more emphasis over the next two years. Ratings from 0.10 to 0.20 identify service areas that should receive increased emphasis. Ratings less than 0.10 should continue to receive the current level of emphasis.

- Definitely Increase Emphasis (I-S > 0.20)
- Increase Current Emphasis (I-S = 0.10 - 0.20)
- Maintain Current Emphasis (I-S < 0.10)
